Introducing MENU's Androgyne Lounge Table in striking Italian marble.

Part of Copenhagen-based Norwegian architect and designer Danielle Siggerud's Androgyne Collection for MENU, the artistic lounge table profiles harmonious proportions and elegant natural materials. The latest iteration of the popular design is crafted in Calacatta Viola marble, a beautiful off-white marble with characteristic purple veining. Honouring craftsmanship tradition and modern living, its sculptural form adds an artistic silhouette to any room.

Both top and base are available in the Italian marble, making it possible to mix and match with other materials in the collection – including Kunis Breccia stone and a range of wood types and finishes – to create an expression to suit any space and style.

“The versatile piece lets you create personal spaces suited to the context, place and function it will become a part of,” notes Danielle Siggerud.

The Androgyne Lounge Table is both purposeful and powerful when placed everywhere from hotel lobbies and private living rooms to exhibition spaces and office reception areas. Its versatile design does double duty as a lounge table or bench for piles of books or decorative objects.

A Sense of Community

MENU has always been fascinated by the way in which individuals and spaces can be united through great design. In our pursuit to craft furniture, lighting and interior accessories shaped by purposeful details, high-quality materials and human needs, we create strong and lasting relations between designers, manufacturers and customers. The sense of community that results from this union of like-minded individuals fosters a deeper sense of belonging – and products that stand the test of time, inviting human connection, inspiration and experimentation to push the boundaries of modern design. We truly believe that when we work collectively, we achieve more than we do individually: the sum of our work and of our connections is always greater than its parts, and our softly minimal designs and collaborative spirit help to join the dots between the home, the workplace and the service industry, redefining how we use space and, ultimately, how we connect to those around us.
